Third Sunday of Easter

The readings for the Third Sunday of Easter continue to offer us insights into how the early Christians formulated their beliefs about Jesus and themselves in light of his life, death, and resurrection. The Gospel reading for today is the appearance of the resurrected Christ to the two disciples on the road to Emmaus. This Resurrection narrative is unique to Luke. And it communicates one of the central tenets of faith: the real presence of the resurrected Christ in the Eucharist.

In the story, two disciples (Cleopas and an unnamed disciple) are leaving Jerusalem, disillusioned by the Crucifixion and skeptical of reports of the empty tomb. They share their disappointment with the “stranger” they encounter on their way to the city of Emmaus. Unbeknownst to them, the stranger is the resurrected Christ who reveals to them how Scripture foretold of the suffering Messiah and then reveals himself later over a shared meal, in the breaking of the bread.

The story of the disciples’ encounter with the resurrected Christ on the road to Emmaus concludes by reporting that the two disciples returned immediately to Jerusalem, informing “the eleven” of the events that transpired. From their experience of the resurrected Christ in the breaking of the bread, the disciples went out into the world and proclaimed the good news: “The Lord has truly been raised!” Our Catholic belief in the “real presence” of Christ in the Eucharist calls us to do likewise in the world today.

OLGC-STM Welcomes Fr. Michael O’Hara, OMI

Originally a “maniac” from Bangor, Maine, Fr. O’Hara was raised in Syracuse, NY, in a family of thirteen children. He joined the Oblates of Mary Immaculate and was ordained in 1976 at the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington, DC. The majority of Fr. O’Hara’s priestly ministry has been spent in prison chaplaincy with the Federal Bureau of Prisons and the NY and PA prison systems. He has also served as a teacher at his order’s high school in West Palm Beach and as pastor of Holy Redeemer in Miami. For the last four years, Fr. O’Hara served in Boston as chaplain at the Soldiers Home in Chelsea and St. Patrick’s parish in Lowell, MA.

In New York, Fr. O’Hara will be a part-time chaplain at Mt. Sinai and assisting at OLGC-STM. “Now,” he says, “my most pressing problem is getting rid of my ‘red sox’ and quickly buying a pair of ‘pin-striped sox.’”
