Second Sunday of Easter

At the heart of this Sunday, which concludes the Octave of Easter and which Saint John Paul II wished to dedicate to Divine Mercy, are the glorious wounds of the risen Jesus.

He had already shown those wounds when he first appeared to the Apostles on the very evening of that day following the Sabbath, the day of the resurrection. But, as we have heard, Thomas was not there that evening, and when the others told him that they had seen the Lord, he replied that unless he himself saw and touched those wounds, he would not believe. A week later, Jesus appeared once more to the disciples gathered in the Upper Room. Thomas was also present; Jesus turned to him and told him to touch his wounds. Whereupon that man, so straightforward and accustomed to testing everything personally, knelt before Jesus with the words: "My Lord and my God!" (Jn 20:28).

The wounds of Jesus are a scandal, a stumbling block for faith, yet they are also the test of faith. That is why on the body of the risen Christ the wounds never pass away: they remain, for those wounds are the enduring sign of God's love for us. They are essential for believing in God. Not for believing that God exists, but for believing that God is love, mercy and faithfulness. Saint Peter, quoting Isaiah, writes to Christians: "by his wounds you have been healed" (1 Pet 2:24, cf. Is 53:5).

This hope and this joy were palpable in the earliest community of believers, in Jerusalem, as we have heard in the Acts of the Apostles (cf. 2:42-47). It was a community which lived the heart of the Gospel, love and mercy, in simplicity and fraternity. This is also the image of the Church which the Second Vatican Council set before us.

Dementia: The Dignity of the Patient and the Faith of the Family Caregiver

Thursday, May 4th

7pm (6:30 check-in)

STM, Rochester Room

Moderated by Gianni Perilli, Sociologist, President of Foundation Dementia Services New York

- Fr. Maximo Villanueva, Jr., Parochial Vicar
- Fr. Raphael Munday, Disabilities Services Coordinator at the Office Of Disabilities And Deaf Ministry (Catholic Charities, Brooklyn and Queens)

Our panel will talk about ethical questions such as:

- Is it a disgrace or an opportunity to love or to take care of a loved one with dementia?
- How can we preserve the dignity of a dementia patient over all the years of the disease?
- How can emotional and physical burden of the family caregiver get along with his/her Faith?
